Just got a response to Greg's piece from Bruce Carson's lawyer. For publication. Can we add this web piece and if the National is doing it worth an addition:

Bruce has asked me to provide you with the following statement for publication:

“Bruce Carson was not in any way lobbying government or anyone else. The initial search for a Canadian Energy Strategy involved a number of Think Tanks and the Energy Policy Institute of Canada all trying to determine what a Canadian Energy Strategy --in an embryonic way-- would look like and what it would do. In pursuing this, Mr Carson consulted with Federal and Provincial governments. This did not constitute lobbying.

If any charges are brought they will be vigorously defended.”
